- to get acquainted with the intellectual output

CONCLUSIONS FROM PARTICIPANTS:

1. The aims and tasks of the project are important to nowadays situation in Lithuanian youth Labour market
2. The material of the project includes the wider point of view to youth unemployment problem because during the courses we searched for the reasons which do not let to make successful working career

3. The representatives of labour market told that learning how to look for a job without selfanalyses and active society's position oftenly is not effective. Only youth who knows their own wishes, being able to evaluate one own possibilities can effectivelly be in labour market.
4. During the pilot courses we found out that after gaining the profession at school the youth still lacks knowledge how to prepare the documents for applying for a job position, to to prepare for the interview, etc.
5. Youth looking for a job very often do not think about the possibility to create a working place for oneself. Not many of them dare to look for ideas for a new business. There is a lack of good examples, mostly we hear not successful stories and it frightens young people.
